

PRIVACY POLICY

Purpose

Community Christian Church recognizes that an individual's privacy is very important to them and that they have a right to control their personal information. COMMUNITY acknowledges that when an individual provides personal information about themselves to another party it is an act of trust. In response, we take the process of upholding an individual's privacy very seriously. Unless an individual gives COMMUNITY explicit consent to act otherwise, the following policy will govern how we handle an individual's personal information and safeguard their privacy.

1. What information of yours does COMMUNITY collect?

We collect two different types of information. One type is voluntary information, which you provide, such as registration information for events, contact information, or shipping and billing information. The other type of information COMMUNITY collects is user information provided by your computer each time you visit this site, such as IP address, browser. The information that we collect helps us to provide information and service to you. We may combine information from other sources with the information that we collect.

2. What does COMMUNITY do with the information that is collected?

Any information that you provide that is obtained through this web site may be used for church purposes. COMMUNITY will not sell, rent or lease your personal information to commercial entities. Cookies are information that a web site transfers to an individual's PC for record-keeping purposes. Cookies can save your preferences when you are at a site. The use of cookies is an industry standard and most major web sites use them.

Most browsers accept cookies by default. You can update your browser setting to either refuse all cookies or to notify you when you are receiving a cookie and allow you to decide whether or not to accept it.

We do not use cookies to obtain any personal information about you before or after you leave our website.

4. How does linking to other sites affect my privacy protections?

As a courtesy, COMMUNITY may provide links to other sites that are neither owned nor controlled by us. Some of these sites may use the COMMUNITY logo. These third party sites, however, are NOT subject to or bound by this Privacy Policy. Such third party sites may or may not have their own privacy policies and may or may not collect personal information from you or place cookies on your browser. COMMUNITY is not responsible for the privacy policies or any information collection practices of these sites or any resulting damages.

The security of the information that you provide to us is very important to us. Consequently, we have taken several measures to protect your information. All transactions involving sensitive information, such as your credit/debit card number and expiration date, are conducted using a SSL (Secure Socket Layer) connection. This connection provides increased security to the information as it is transmitted to our web site.

6. How does COMMUNITY protect the privacy of children?

COMMUNITY encourages parents and guardians to spend time with their children online. No information should be submitted to or posted on COMMUNITY's web site by users 13 years old and younger without the consent of their parent or guardian. Unless otherwise disclosed during collection, COMMUNITY will not provide any personally identifying information, regardless of its source, to any third party for any purpose whatsoever for our users 13 years and younger. If any services or features on the site require registration, a user 13 years old and younger will be required to provide the email of the parent or guardian which will allow us to notify that person that the child has registered for a service or feature. Parental or guardian consent will consist of an email from that person to COMMUNITY stating that they are aware that the child is using the web site. Identifying a user as 13 or under is not easy and COMMUNITY will not be held responsible for anyone misrepresenting as over 13 when in fact they are not.
